

BORROWED TIME

Movement VII

Too big

Chasing dreams, I lost my way,
The fire burned, but led astray.
Ambition sharp, it cut too deep,
And left me tangled in my sleep.

Ambition's fire can burn so bright,
But in the dark, I lost my sight.
I need a hand, I need a friend,
Together strong, we'll find the end.

I tried to fight, I tried to stand,
But pride and pain were in command.
It took a while, but now I see,
There's strength in you, and strength in me.

Ambition's fire can burn so bright,
But in the dark, I lost my sight.
I need a hand, I need a friend,
Together strong, we'll find the end.

The road is long, the climb is steep,
But together, the mountain's ours to keep.
No more pretending I'm all alone,
In every struggle, we've grown strong.

We rise together, lift the weight,
No need to walk this path of fate.
The world is vast, we're not alone,
In every heart, a place called home.

The world's too big to fight on my own,
But with you, I've found a place to call home.
Ambition may burn, but love will heal,
With you beside me, I know what's real.

Ambition's fire can burn so bright,
But in the dark, I lost my sight.
I need a hand, I need a friend,
Together strong, we'll find the end.

Ambition's fire can burn so bright,
But in the dark, I lost my sight.
I need a hand, I need a friend,
Together strong, we'll find the end.

The road, oh, is long, the climb is steep,
But together, the mountain's ours to keep.
No more pretending I'm all alone,
In every struggle, we've grown strong.

We rise together, lift the weight,
No need to walk this path of fate.
The world is vast, we're not alone,
In every heart, a place called home.

The world's too big to fight on my own,
But with you, I've found a place to call home.
Ambition may burn, but love will heal,
With you beside me, I know what's real.

Ambition's fire can burn so bright,
But in the dark, I lost my sight.
I need a hand, I need a friend,
Together strong, we'll find the end.

We'll find the end.
