

BORROWED TIME

Encore III Stay broken

I lit a fire just to feel the cold, you held me tight, but never took hold,
your love was loud, then it disappeared.
Like thunder that forgets to bring the rain.

I gave you the pieces you asked me to find,
you painted your heaven on the walls of my mind.

And now I stay broken just to feel like I'm whole,
I sleep through the silence just to chase your echo,
I beg for the fall if it means I can fly,
you are the reason I can't say goodbye.
No, I can't say goodbye.

You haunt my hands like a melody,
still dancing in the dark where you left me,
I tried to forgive, but you're stitched in the seams,
of the version of me that forgot how to dream.

You told me that loving was just letting go but how do I leave what still lives in my soul?

And now I stay broken just to feel like I'm whole,
I sleep through the silence just to chase your echo,
I beg for the fall if it means I can fly,
you are the reason I can't say goodbye.
No, I can't say goodbye.

Tell me this ache will mean something one day,
tell me the hurt was a price that I paid.
For love that burned real,
for scars that can heal,
for a voice that still shakes,
when I whisper your name.

I stay broken just to feel like I'm whole,
I sleep through the silence just to chase your echo,
I beg for the fall if it means I can fly,
but you are the reason,
you are the reason,
I can't say goodbye.

Goodbye!
