

BORROWED TIME

Movement XVII Mother

You held me close when I was small,
taught me how to rise when I would fall.
Through every tear and every fight,
you showed me warmth, you showed me light.

The world was tough, but you held me near,
through every storm, you wiped my fear.
You carried me with a heart so true,
Every step, I learned from you.

Mother, you're the heart that never breaks,
a love that heals, a love that wakes.
You gave me strength, you gave me grace,
a love so pure, no time can erase.

Through every trial, you stood so tall,
you never let me feel too small.
You gave me all, and asked for none,
taught me to rise, no matter how far I'd run.

Mother, you're the heart that never breaks,
a love that heals, a love that wakes.
You gave me strength, you gave me grace,
a love so pure, no time can erase.

Through sleepless nights and endless days,
you gave your all in countless ways.
No matter what, you'd never stray,
your love's the light that guides my way.

You showed me what it means to care,
to love so deeply, to always share.
Every moment, every tear,
I'm thankful for the warmth you gave me here.

Mother, you're the heart that never breaks,
a love that heals, a love that wakes.
You gave me strength, you gave me grace,
a love so pure, no time can erase.

Mother, you're the heart that never breaks,
a love that heals, a love that wakes.
You gave me strength, you gave me grace,
a love so pure, no time can erase.

A love so pure,
no time can erase.

A love so pure,
no time can erase.

Through sleepless nights and endless days,
you gave your all in countless ways.
No matter what, you'd never stray,
your love's the light that guides my way.
